

ABSTRACT

[0070] In accordance with one or more embodiments, a method for setting a playback environment for an ENAV recording medium comprises determining availability of additional contents 5 associated with audio/video (A/V) data recorded on the ENAV recording medium, based on data recorded on the ENAV recording medium; loading the additional contents in a temporary storage area; and reproducing the A/V data and the additional contents loaded in the temporary storage area according to the data.

10